SAM RAYBURN HOUSE

IN 1916, THREE YEARS AFTER HE BEGAN HIS CAREER IN THE U.S. CONGRESS, SAM RAYBURN BUILT THIS HOME FOR HIS PARENTS, WHO HAD LEFT THEIR FARM AT WINDOM. THE 2-STORY HOUSE HAD A FRONT PORCH ON EACH FLOOR. IN 1934 ARCHITECT W. B. YARBOROUGH ENLARGED "THE HOME PLACE", TURNING THE PORCHES INTO A 2-STORY PORTICO. WHEN NOT IN WASHINGTON, RAYBURN LIVED HERE WITH OTHER MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY. DEEDED TO THE TEXAS HISTORICAL COMMISSION IN 1972, THE HOUSE IS NOW (1974) A MUSEUM.

RECORDED TEXAS HISTORIC LANDMARK - 1968

Some days when the pace is rather slow, we just let our hair down or sit idly by.

RIGHT: Mark Fraser displays his artistic ability as he decorates a chalkboard with colorful seasonal drawings.

BELOW: Fannin County Queen Deanya Kueckelhan and escort, Kirk Matthews, line up for parade.

THE '76 REBEL STAFF

Editor Diana Thornton has a busy schedule as she plans copy layout and rushes to meet publication deadlines.

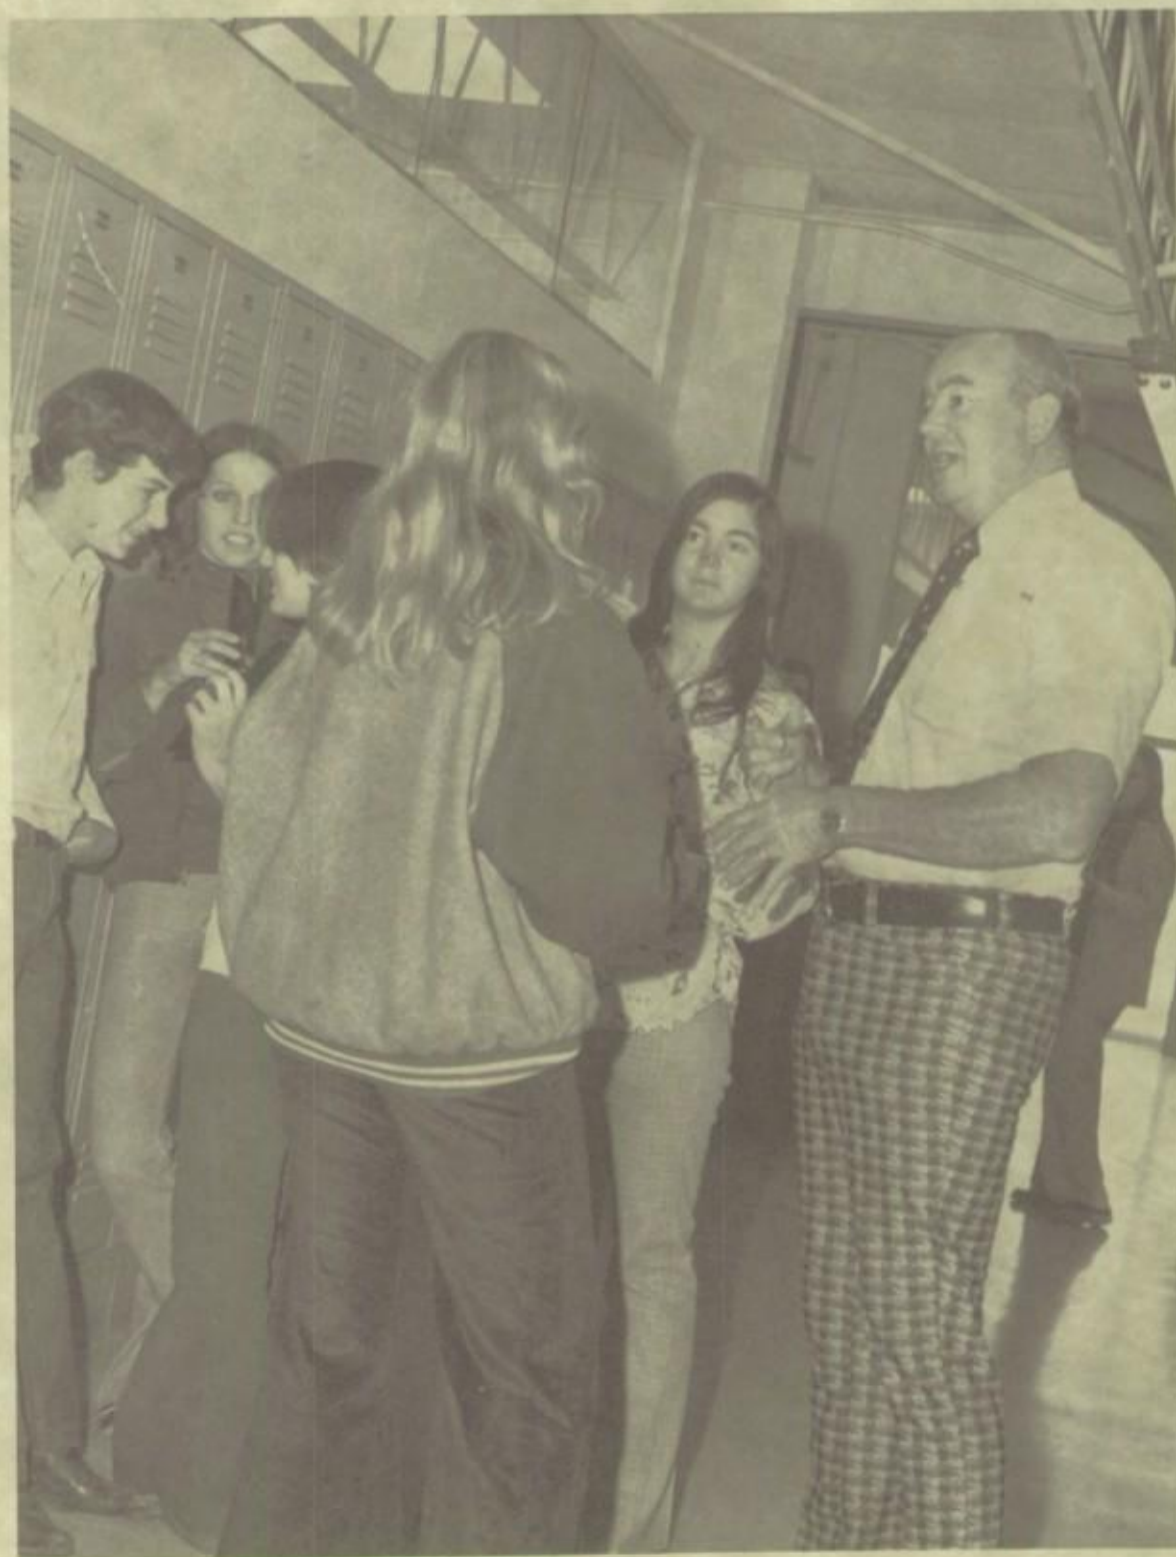

Staff Assistants Rhonda Brawner, Rhonda Mize, and Kathy Russell lend time and effort as work on yearbook progresses.

Students Relax in the Easy Atmosphere of Sam Rayburn High

LEFT: The newspaper holds some item of intense interest for Deanya Kueckelhan and Marilyn Keene.

BELOW RIGHT: Kirk Matthews wonders why, since he didn't have to take this course, he did.

BELOW LEFT: The new magazines have arrived, and Glenna Moss, Ilene Barnett, Kenneth Gray, and Don Eskue eagerly grab them up.

BELOW RIGHT: Marty Kueckelhan stands by with constructive criticism as Tommy Bingham applies his skill in a not-so-easy board decoration scheme.

TOP: Staff members line up in solid support of the Rebels.

Mrs. Manhart and Mrs. Biggers find that operating the concession stand can work into somewhat of a chore during halftime of a well-attended home game.

BELOW LEFT: Mrs. Kueckelhan believes there is nothing like physical fitness to help one cope with the problems of the day.

BELOW RIGHT: Principal Bill Beard finds time in his busy schedule to join Mrs. Beard and their three lovely daughters for a family portrait.

CENTER: Mr. Sigler and Mr. Beard discuss problems and solutions in informal office talk.

BOTTOM LEFT: The workroom doubles as a place to catch up on school talk and to get a bit of work done.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS NAMED

VOCATIONAL STUDENTS

JEFF GAMMONS, senior, served as president of the Sam Rayburn Chapter of FFA during the 1975-76 school year. Participating enthusiastically in all phases of chapter and Rodeo Club activities, Jeff has exhibited show cattle at district, area, and state levels.

DIANA THORNTON, senior, has been actively involved in the Sam Rayburn chapter of FHA during her four years of high school. Having served the chapter as historian and as secretary, Diana was selected as the outstanding student for the year on the basis of demonstration of maturity, responsibility, and dependability.

ATHLETES OF THE YEAR

TIMMY REEVES, a 6' 1" senior, was a key figure in helping to secure for the Rebels a second place spot in district competition during the 1976 season. Timmy, top scorer for the team, demonstrated the kind of court agility and control that won for him the distinction of Player of the Year.

RHONDA MIZE, senior, played a spectacular brand of defensive ball. Always alert, and quick to take advantage of an opponent's error, Rhonda was responsible for getting the ball across the line to team forwards in many split-second situations. Hard work, team spirit, and determination won the Player-of-the-Year title for Rhonda.

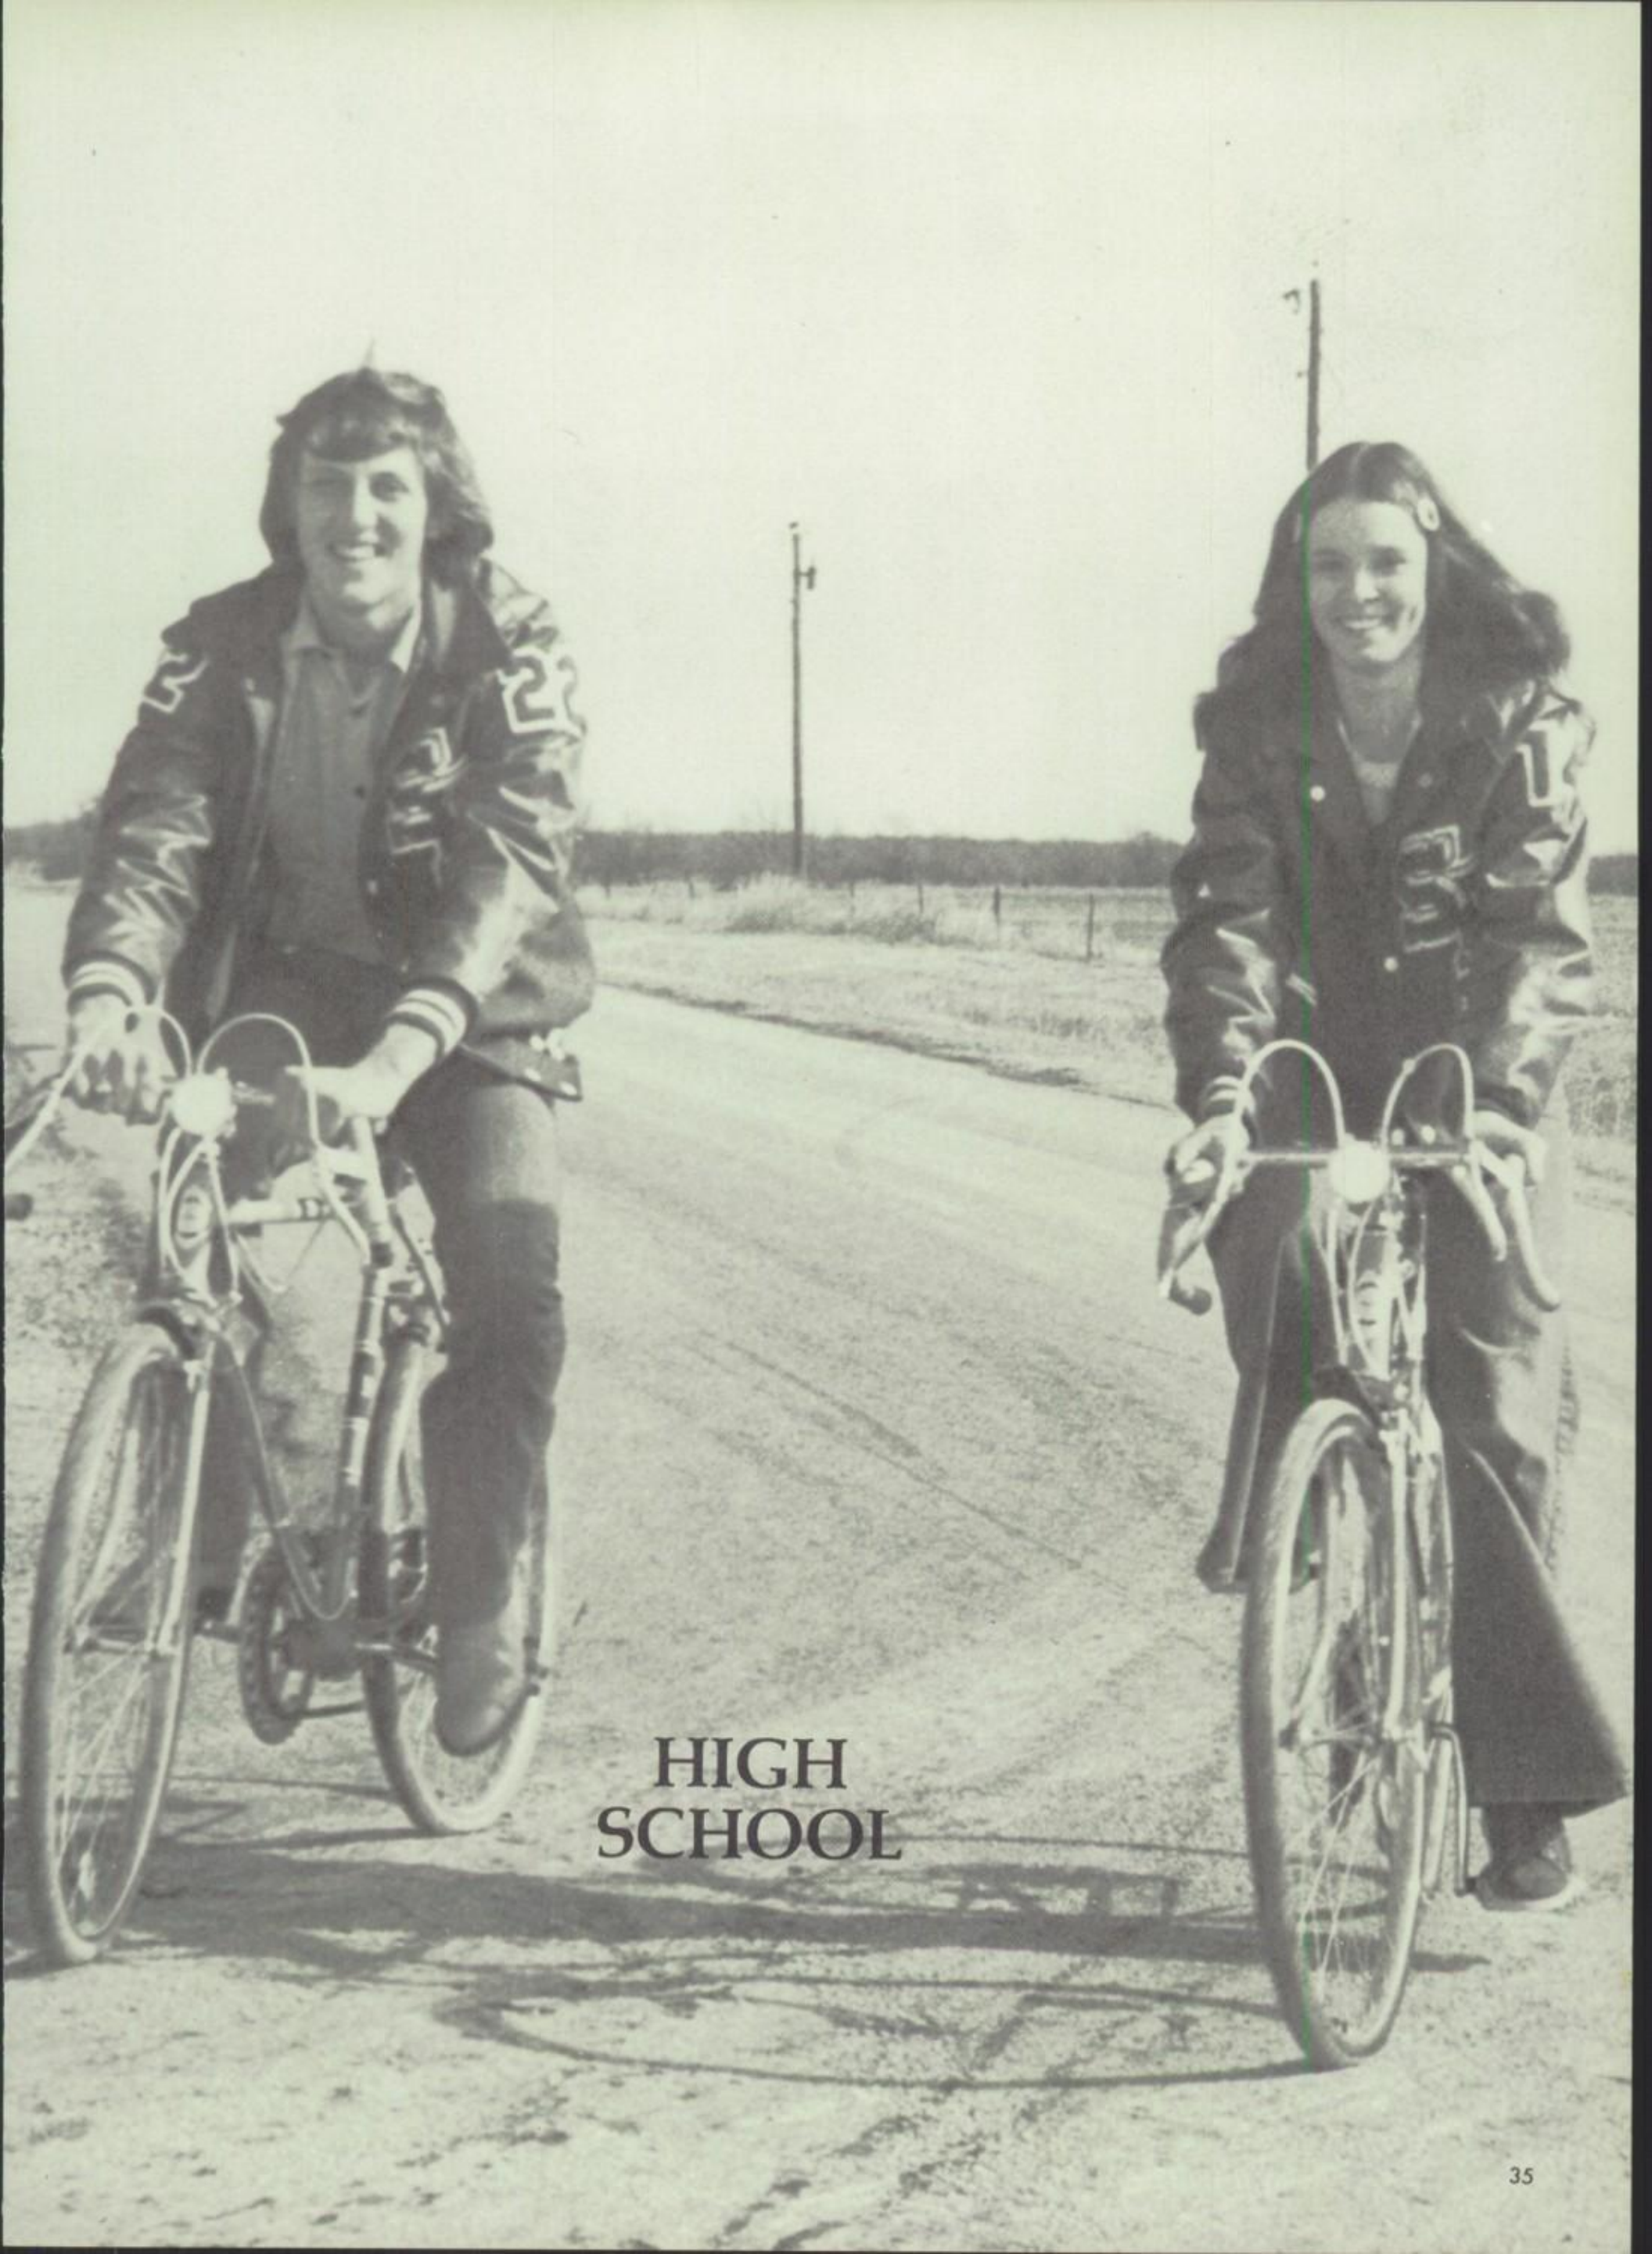

UPPER LEFT: Basketball Queen Pat Russell, First Runner-Up Rhonda Brawner, Second Runner-Up Rhonda Mize.

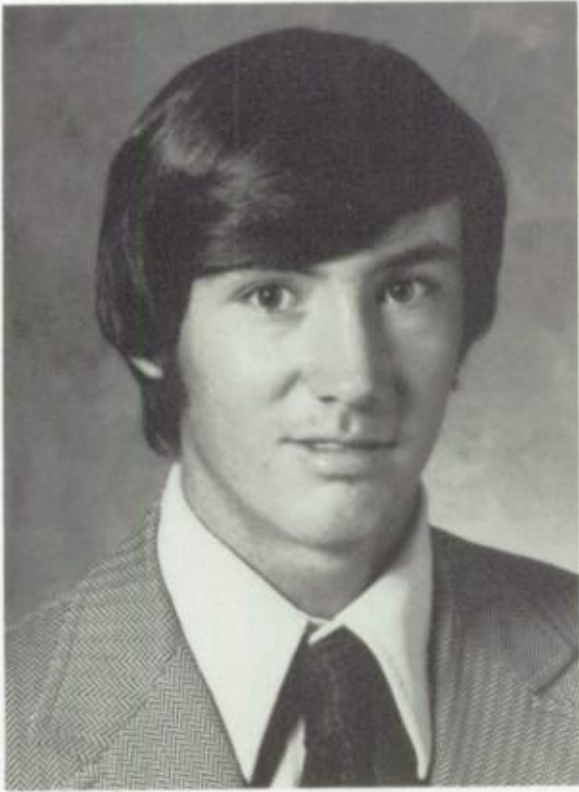

LOWER LEFT: FHA Beau Timmy Reeves and FFA Sweetheart Toni White.

LOWER RIGHT: Rodeo Club Queen Pat Russell.
